Arlene Hanson Becomes Bride of Eugene White

Miss Arlene Ruth Hanson, the daughter of Peter Hanson of Rochelle, became the bride of Eugene R. White in a ceremony performed by Rev. Leinimier, pastor of the Rochelle Lutheran church, at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert White of Bluford, is employed at the J. L. Clark Manufacturing company plant.

For her marriage the bride wore a yellow dress, and her flowers were dainty pink and white gladioli. Following the ceremony, a reception for 40 friends and relatives was held at the Peter Hanson home.

Mr. and Mrs. White plan to take a two weeks' wedding trip to Colorado where they will visit relatives. They will make the trip in a new Plymouth car.

Lessner and Covert City Champs

Covert Takes City Net Title From Ted Mason in Thriller

Mason and Reilly Retain Doubles Title; Fourth Win for Covert

George Covert is nursing a bumper crop of foot blisters and a pulled ligament in his leg, but he has something which serves as a powerful antidote—the City Tennis title.

Covert won the singles crown, the fourth time he has slipped the band on his brow—by beating Ted Mason in a gruelling five-hour display of some of the finest tennis produced on the local courts Sunday before a gathering of more than 100 court addicts.

The count was 6-2, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1, 4-6, and 6-4.

Playing cagy tennis to offset the superior speed and agility of his more youthful opponent, Covert chased Mason to all sectors, eventually wearing him down for the kill in the guelling title tilt, which got under way at 1:30 p.m. and wasn't decided until 5:15 [illegible].

In doubles play Mason and [illegible] walked off with top honors, dropping Covert and Mike Rosenberger 6-2, 3-6 [illegible] and [illegible].

Covert kept M[illegible] on the move throughout the [illegible] [illegible] finale's [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

Continuing [illegible] deep Covert kept Mason [illegible] defensive throughout the match keeping him running while moving into the net for the kill.

In the doubles finals, Mason and Reilly played aggressive tennis, controlling the nets and keep Rosenberger and Covert on the defensive throughout to win Saturday's doubles in a hotly contested match which went to the five-set limit.

Covert and Rosenberger assumed a short-lived lead when they took the second and third sets in the title round, which also lasted approximately 4 hours.

Covert's previous three singles titles came in 1937, 1938 and 1939. He faded from active court circles here in 1942 and 1943, only to return this year.

The victory for Mason and Reilly enabled them to retain the crown which they won in 1943, date of the last City Tennis tournament.

Three-I Flag Will Hinge on Playoff Feature Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Bringing the closest Three-I league pennant race in history to a prolonged end, Davenport and Danville meet in a single game playoff for the championship tonight at the former's park.

Entering yesterday's closing games of the season tied for the lead, the Cubs beat Waterloo twice and the Dodgers swept a doubleheader from Decatur winding up the official season still deadlocked. League president Tom Fairweather in Des Moines announced that the two clubs would battle for the pennant and the $1,000 prize [illegible] tonight [illegible].

On Thursday the [illegible] four [illegible] will begin the Shaughnessy playoffs, the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 000. The [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] day by [illegible] Danville-Davenport title contest. The [illegible] [illegible] in which [illegible] teams [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] a three out of five basis [illegible] first two games will [illegible] at Davenport and Danville with the first place team meeting third place Evansville, and the No. 2 team facing fourth place Terre Haute.

Last night Davenport beat Waterloo 6-3 in the opener, piling up three runs in the first and three in the sixth, and took the afterpiece 7-6 after the Whitehawks totaled three runs in the sixth and seventh frames to knot the count 6-6.

Punching over two runs in the initial inning, Danville blanked Decatur 2-0 behind three-hit twirling of Schmidt, and captured the second game 7-1 with a 12-hit barrage and the aid of five Decatur errors.

Terre Haute clinched fourth place and a playoff berth by sweeping a doubleheader from Evansville, 7-4 and a 10-hit job, and 7-2, on eight hits. The Phillies scored all their runs in the second game in the fourth inning.

Springfield, winding up in seventh place, beat Quincy twice, 5-3, and 11-3.

Springfield Golfer Top Man in Central Field

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 3—(AP)—Jack [illegible] of Springfield today [illegible] the golf championship of the newly [illegible] Central Illinois Country club association.

[illegible] defeated [illegible] of Taylorville 1 up in a 36 hole [illegible] yesterday to win the crown.

The association, which operated from 1921 through 1926, was reorganized to include five members—Illini country club of Springfield, Decatur, Bloomington, Quincy and Champaign country clubs.

The 1947 tournament will be staged at Quincy with Dr. C. Stephens of Quincy as tournament chairman.

Dark Horse Golfer Tops Detweiler for City's Links Honors

Leg Injury Slows Ken in Closing Rounds as Big Gallery Watches

Frank Lessner came zooming out of the shadows Sunday afternoon to win the city golf title with a 144 total, finishing two strokes ahead of a game Ken Detweiler, one of the pre-tourney favorites, who finished the afternoon with second money and a lame leg. Floyd Smith took down third honors.

Defending Champion Hank Henry, who experienced difficulties on the greens throughout the day, wound up in fifth place.

In the remainder of the tourney's four-flight competition Gerald Rice captured Class B honors with a 154 total, Bob Craney won the Class C title, and Fritz Chiverton took down top honors in the Class D flight.

Detweiler jumped into the spotlight during the morning round when he recorded a 69, three strokes under par. Lessner, who carded a 72 before the [illegible] moved out to Plum Hollow for the afternoon rounds.

But Detweiler injured his knee and limped through the final 20 holes of competition in a gamish. His game fell off to a 77 in the afternoon round, while Lessner played steady golf to duplicate his morning 72.

More than 250 spectators thronged across the courses watching the progress of the tourney, the largest gallery in recent golfing annals here.

Both courses were exceptionally fast and generally in the best shape of the season, with all entrants well satisfied.

Tournament prizes will be distributed at the banquet scheduled for Thursday night at the Country club. Members of both local clubs can get tickets for the banquet, at which Bill Thompson, master of ceremonies, will present the big cup to Plum Hollow, where Frank Lessner, the new champion, plays.

Lessner eclipsed several more highly touted performers in the main event to cop his championship. Bill Witzleb, one of the pre-tourney favorites for a top spot, got off to a slow start and dropped out of contention fairly early. Don Raymond, another expected to figure strongly in title consideration, also dropped out of the picture.

Robinson Bout Is Delayed; Marty's Nose Got in Way

New York, Sept. 3—(AP)—The off-again, on-again welterweight title brawl between Champion Marty Servo and Challenger Ray Robinson apparently is off again—all because Marty's nose got in the way once more.

This time it was to have been until [illegible] the fight, not Marty's nose—in Yankee stadium Friday night, but Marty's [illegible] proboscis suffered a [illegible] of week end mishap that swelled it to awesome proportions and made it "look like a [illegible]," according to Marty's manager, astute Al Weill. So astute Al [illegible] promptly and flatly announced that he "will not let Marty box Friday."

"If the state athletic commission wants to fool the public," he challenged, "then it can go ahead and order Marty to go through with the fight on its own responsibility. But I know Marty's not ready now. And I don't think he'd go through with it anyway—because he'll listen to me."

On Thursday, Al related, Marty was boxing with Lew Hanbury, another Weill warrior, out of Washington, D. C., and Lew either punched or butted the champion in a most disrespectful manner. This gave Servo a beautiful black eye, which occupied the attention of Dr. Vincent Nardiello the state athletic commission physician, when Marty appeared before the commission for the usual prefight examination last Friday.

He laid off his sparring work Friday, Saturday and Sunday. On Sunday, however, he worked out in the gymnasium on the up-and-down bag, a bouncing contraption which operates on a rubber band, and in the excitement it upped and popped him—right on that overworked nose. Then yeselerday, he tried boxing again, wearing a masked headgear, and before you knew it, little Bobby Laken up and landed one you-know-where.

350 Illinois High Schools Preparing for Football Term

Chicago, Sept. 3—(AP)—More than 15,000 youngsters with a hankering for physical contact today were in the midst of preparations for the 1946 football season at approximately 350 Illinois high schools.

The Illinois High School association estimated that at least 100 schools would resume interscholastic football after a wartime layoff and probably a dozen would be playing the six-man version for the first time.

Practice opened for most schools on Aug. 26 with the campaign scheduled to open the weekend of Sept 13 the association requiring three weeks of drills before regular competition.

Hint Greatest Season

[illegible] turnout [illegible] for many boys who passed [illegible], both during the war [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the greatest since pre-war years.

Association officials [illegible] [illegible] high school [illegible] former servicemen would boost the average player [illegible] from slightly under 16, but many would be ineligible because of the 20-year age limit.

M. F. Sprunger, assistant to Al Willis, association executive secretary, said that although all members had not yet advised the association of their 1946-47 athletic programs, about 350 schools, including Chicago public league members, were expected to play 11-man football and around 50 were undertaking six-man play.

Rules Change

Schoolboy rule changes generally are pointed to speed up play, foremost being permission for each team to send in two substitutes any time the ball is dead but the clock still is running. Formerly, this would require a time out. Another change allows substitutes, excepting centers, guards and tackles, to enter play without reporting to an official.

The revised code also awards a fumble or backward pass which goes out of bounds to the team last in possession instead of to the team last touching the ball; permits centers to tilt the ball prior to the snap; and classifies failure to have seven men on the lines as a form of offside with the ball permitting to go into play.

Rules interpretations meetings will be held at 16 centers throughout the state during the first two weeks of September.

Abbott Tops McGraw As Flag-Winning Pilot

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 3—(AP)—The Charlotte Hornets emerged today as the Tri-State Class B league's pennant winner, earning for Manager Spencer Abbott his eleventh flag—a new record in organized baseball.

Abbott previously was tied with John McGraw, New York Giants boss, at 10 flags won.

McGraham Gives Up Five Hits in Slow-Moving Championship Tilt

For a title game, it was awfully slow and dragged-out. That was the opinion of many of the onlookers who witnessed the battle between Roberts & Hess and Walton for the midwest title Sunday.

Minus their twirling ace, Stan Spolar, the Walton outfit could do little more than put up a vain effort as the eastern division winners poked easily through the long nine innings to a compartively simple victory. Ed. Bushman, heaving in Spolar's place, turned in an admirable job on the mound for the Walton crew, however, holding the locals to seven hits while his mates gave him little support, kicking the ball around six times to account for the difference in score.

Willowy George McGraham was in trouble only once—in the initial frame when Don Welty doubled and his brother, Chuck came up behind him and planted the ball in the corn patch over the left field barrier. From that point onward, the [illegible] [illegible] was master of the [illegible] [illegible] the W[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] more safeties [illegible] [illegible] eight inning.

The [illegible] [illegible] Bushman in the first [illegible] [illegible] three costly errors [illegible] one solid hit netted the Roberts-Hess outfit [illegible] tallies. From that point, nobody did any appreciable damage to Bushman, except his own players, who continually booted the ball around badly. George McGraham, coming to his own aid blasted out a triple in the second and scored on Burke's hit. He hit pay dirt again in the fourth when he singled, went to third on Burke's double and scored as Shaulis was put out on an infield play.

After the fourth frame, when McGraham scored the sixth run, Bushman rose and shone with a great brilliance, giving up two hits, and blanking the champs throughout the remainder of the game. McGraham did likewise after his weak start, handing out two singles in the remaining eight innings.

St. Joseph Autos Cop Top Semi-Pro Honors

Wichita, Kas., Sept. 3—(AP)—A St. Joseph, Mich., baseball club was the new national champion of semi-pro baseball today.

National League Race Fast Becomes Battle of Bullpens

(By The Associated Press)

National league fans long may remember the 1946 pennant race as the "Battle of the Bullpens" with Manager Eddie Dyer of St. Louis uncovering Al Brazle as his latest relief ace to match Leo Durocher's crew of firemen.

The lean lefthander's greatest day of the season came yesterday when he received credit for both ends of a double win over Cincinnati, 6-4 and 8-7, although he, too, needed help from the bullpen in the late stages of the second game.

Judd Beats Brooks

The twin victories re-established the Cards' lead at 2½ games because Brooklyn, after winning the opener from the Phillies, 5-2, ran afoul of Oscar Judd's left arm and dropped the 3-2 finale.

Walker Cooper was the big noise for the New York Giants in their eight-run seventh inning that earned an 8-3 edge and an even break with Boston, which had won the opener 6-2. Cooper spoiled brother Mort's shutout bid in the first tilt with a two-run double. It was the first time he had appeared against his brother since they left St. Louis.

Pittsburgh and Chicago swapped decisions, the Pirates grabbing a 4-1 opener for rookie Edson Bahr. The veteran Russ Lauers, a former Pirate, earned his first victory of the season on a 7-3 job for the Cubs in the second.

Yankees Bow Twice

New York's largest crowd of th eseason, 73,551 paid, watched Boston sweep both games from the New York Yankees, 5-2, and 3-1, moving the Sox toward a mathematical flag clinching with a 15½ game lead.

Bobo Newsom thoroughly enjoyed himself on the holiday afternoon by trimming his old Philadelphia mates for a Washington 5-2 win. Jess Flores, one of the better hurlers in the league for the past month, earned his fifth straight victory, 7-1, for an even break.

Hank Greenberg's two-run homer provided the scoring punch for Detroit's 2-1 edge over Chicago in the first half of a double. Frank Papish outpitched Al Benton to square matters, 6-2.

St. Louis thumped Cleveland, 9-2, on an eight-run spurt in the eighth inning of the opener and the teams played 13 innings to a 2-2 deadlock before darkness forced the second game to be called. It will be re-played as part of a doubleheader today.

Are You Pondering Over That Veto in Security Council?

If So Read Below and Then Resume Your Wondering Again

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(AP)— The debates in the Security Council of the United Nations drone through all the fog of diplomatic double-talk and then—bang! A veto.

This veto upsets a diplomatic applecart. So the diplomats go to work on something else. And then after a while, bang! a veto. Start again.

By this time, after months of reading about the council doings, people must be wondering: what and when and how is a veto? That question stumps some of the diplomats, too.

But to make things even more difficult they keep on talking about "procedural matters"—in which no one can use a veto—and "matters of substance"—in which the veto can be trotted out.

To see how wild and wooly the veto argument can be, start at the beginning of the United Nations because that's where the trouble starts.

UN was created to keep peace by having nations work out their problems in conference instead of on a battlefield. And the Security Council is UN's peace-keeping arm.

Has Numerous Powers

It has power to do a number of things: to listen to complaints from one nation against another, to discuss them, to investigate them, and finally to act upon them.

If, at last, the council decides one nation is pushing another around it can call on UN's combined forces to stop the aggressor. That's the theory. It sounds good, when said fast. But—. There's a big but.

The council has 11 members: six small nations and five big ones, the big five: United States, Britain, Russia, France and China. The six small ones are elected for limited periods. The big five are permanent members.

Permancy of the big five on the council is proof, for anyone who doubts it, that they dominate UN and therefore the world. Since they are UN's backbone, they'll have to do the crushing of an aggressor.

Would Never Do

But suppose some day the council should decide one of the big five is an aggressor and calls on UN's armed forces to crush it. This would never do, thought the big five before UN was created.

It would mean they were organizing a giant which some time might be able to destroy any one of them. They didn't want that, so they roped the council around with certain limits. They said:

1. In deciding a procedural matter—like electing a council chairman—the vote of any seven members, large or small, is enough. There are 60 rules for that kind of procedure.

2. But in deciding a matter of substance—like investigating a complaint of agression—no action can be taken unless all five of the big five, plus two small nations, vote "yes."

Veto Come In

Right there the veto comes in. For if any one of the big five votes "no" on a matter of substance, the council and UN can do nothing. The big five thought up this veto to protect themselves.

But is the line between a procedural matter and a substantiv matter as clear and simple as outlined above? Not at all. New problems are arising all the tihe.

And the big five argue as to whether one of those problems is a matter of procedure or substance. The line between them is thin and foggy. For example:

A terrific argument sprang up when the council faced the problem of admitting eight new nations to UN. Was this problem, in all details, a procedural or substantive matter?

So far in the council Russia has used the veto eight times. The United States diplomats say they haven't used it once. But even this isn't clear.

Some diplomats say we used a veto in keeping Albania and Outer Mongolia—two of the eight nations seeking UN membership—out of UN.

We contended that in voting "no" against them we were not using a veto but just a "no" vote.

This explanation could go on forever—as the arguments in the council probably will. Just stay patient and hope some day things will get clearer.

Hollywood

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood —(AP)—Don Defore comes up with the startling suggestion that actors can be normal.

What's more, he proposes that actors should work around the calendar, just like any employe. He was interviewed on the "It Happened on Fifth Ave". set.

Yeah, but what about the glamor queer who claims if she makes more than one or two pictures a year she's actually endorsing her checks over to the income tax collector.

"If I make five cents on the dollar it's Okay with me", Don persisted. "The important thing, as far as I'm concerned, is to keep working in good roles in good pictures". He can't be accused of not practicing his theory, because he has worked in six pictures and one play in the last year and a half.

As for being normal, though an actor the Cedar Rapids, Ia., flash admitted it's no cinch.

"Even by three and a half-year-old daughter doesn't call me 'Daddy' any more", he sighed. "She calls me Don Defore".

Some actors are not getting the break they deserve when they return from the service. For instance, RKO took back four contract players, Robert Smith, Robert Manning, Lee Bonnell and Robert Anderson, then dropped their options without a chance to prove themselves..

In the flim palaces..Our hearts were growing up (par—83 minutes) continues the scatterbrain adventures of Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, This time the happenings are not factual, but created in Hollywood. So the sequel is perhaps funnier, but not so charming as its predecessor. Gail Russell, Diana Lynn, Brian Donlevy and particularly Billy De Wolfe keep things at a merry pace.

BOLSTERED FOOD HUNT

Blimps of the U. S. Navy were helpful in maintaining our food supply during the war. While watching for subs, they located schools of fish, and notified the fisheries.

Housing Problem Not Invincible in These Country Communities

Stanford, Ill., Sept. 3—(AP)—The housing shortage is vexing but not invincible to the two small central Illinois farming villages which wouldn't let lack of shelter cost them services of a new minister and a new high school principal.

In Armington (pop. 299), Tazewell county village 10 miles southwest of Stanford, citizens installed the Rev. Robert Graham and his family in the Hickory Grove school building until a new parsonage can be completed.

In Stanford (pop. 482) McLean county, a referendum will be held Sept. 11 on a board of education proposal to build a $7,500 frame home for Principal John P. Allen and his family.

The Allens, meanwhile, are keeping house in the high school building's home economics room.

Full Day

Portsmouth, N. H.—(AP)—A birdie kept Dr. J. H. Robbins busy while competing in the Abenaqui Club invitation golf tournament.

It was the stork.

He was called from the course thrice during the day to deliver babies, one girl and two boys.

Day By Day On the Air

by

C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Central Daylight Saving Time)

New York, Sept. 3—(AP)—Now that Labor Day has passed, make-up of the 1946-47 radio season will take shape at a fairly fast clip. A sample is offered tonight when three new shows are to sound their way over the network channels. Swo are on CBS, the other ABC, at these times:

7:30 CBS—Mel Blanc's Comedy, in which the ex-radio stooge and voice of animated movies is to be himself in the first program of his own.

7:30 ABC—Henry Morgan, critic of radio, starting in his first half-hour series in which his satirical style will be augmented to include musical antics and other stuff.

8:30 CBS—Hollywood players, drama series, with the opener to present Bette Davis and Rex Harrisonin "The Small Servant".

After a week's delay, Rudy Vallee with an orchestra and guests, is to take over the Tuesday night Frolics on NBC Sept. 10.

New York Political Interest Centers in Day's Meetings

(By The Associated Press)

New York Republicans and Democrats, apparently pretty well agreed in advance on their tickets, gathered in nominating conventions today while South Carolina and Nevada held primaries.

In the Empire State, the line-up for the gubernatorial race once the conventions get through the formalities appeared certain to be Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican incumbent, versus Senator James M. Mead.

The prospective senatorial nominees were less assured, but pre-convention jockeying apparently had put Assembly Leader Irving M. Ives out in front for the Republican nominational with former Gover. Herbert H. Lehman expected to get the Democratic nod.

The actual nominations will not come until tomorrow.

South Carolina Runoff

In South Carolina, the primary is a run-off race between two World War II veterans for the Democratic nomination as governor—equivalent to election in that state. They are J. Strom Thurmond and Dr. James C. McLeod, who topped an 11-man field in the Aug. 13 primary. The campaign developed no clear-cut issues.

Nevada Democrats chose between Senator E. P. Carville and Rep. Berkeley for their nomination as senator. Reno gambling houses posted odds on Bunker. 42-year-old former Las Vegas business man. Carville,61, has opposed the administration on some issues while Bunker usually has supported it.

Gov. Vail Pittman and S. W. Conwell, a miner, contested for the Democratic nomination as governor.

Republicans, usually outnumbered almost two to one in Nevada, had four candidates seeking the senatorial nominations and two contesting for that of governor.

Mining Deaths Under One Per Million Tons

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 3—(AP)—Fatal accidents in Illinois coal mines during the first seven months of 1946 averaged less than one per million tons of coal produced.

Director Robert M. Medill of the state mines and minerals department today reported 30 fatal accidents for the period in the mining of 32,132,156 tons of coal.

Cost of Living is Highway to Romance

Portland, Ore., Sept. 3—(AP)—The rising cost of living helped the romance and marriage of James T. Higgins, 92, and his bride, Augusta, 79.

"We both were paying $60 a month each where we lived before," said Mrs. Higgins today at their suburban cottage which they are renting for $10 a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins were married Saturday just a few months after their meeting at the home of a mutual friend. Higgins, a former minister, has been married twice before and his bride once.

Mrs. Higgins said she had lived alone for 15 years and didn't like it.

Meat Cutters to Seek New Minimum Wages

Chicago, Sept. 3—(AP)—Representatives of AFL Meat Cutters union locals from 12 states, including Illinois, have recommended that an average minimum wage of $65 for meat cutters and a general 40-hour, five-day week with markets closed on Mondays be asked in contract negotiations.

Howard Root, Kansas City, Mo., chairman at the cutters' meeting said about 35,000 union members in the 12-state area would be affected by new contracts which he said would be negotiated on a local basis, the majority of them in the next six weeks.

The group also recommended a $75 weekly minimum be asked for meat department managers.

Finished

Clovis, N. M.—(AP)—An eight-year-old "Big Brother" gathered his three younger sisters and proposed a visit to their father drilling a well several miles away.

Herding them into a light pickup truck, he drove several miles down the highway, left the paved road and get stuck in a mudhole.

Motorist Vaudie Pierce who helped them out, got this information from the youngsters:

It was "big brother's" first time behind the wheel of an auto; they had found the truck unattended on the highway; and their mother probably was wondering where they were.

She was.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 1, was:

"CHRIST JESUS"

The Golden Text was:

"The Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son: that all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father" (John 5: 22, 23).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS" (Jer. 23: 5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Christ is the true idea voicing good, the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness. The Christ is incorporeal, spiritual,—yea, the divine image and likeness, dispelling the illusions of the senses; the Way, the Truth, and the Life, healing the sick and casting out evils, destroying sin, disease and death . . . Abraham, Jacob, Moses, and the prophets caught glorious glimpses of the Messiah, or Christ, which baptized these seers in the divine nature, the essence of Love" (pp. 332, 333).

Milk Mixture for Stomach Ulcers

It is a harmless preparation yet so effective, in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion, heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of LURIN from their druggist. LURIN contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonfuls in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Must satisfy or money refunded.

Berchtesgaden —(AP)— Think no more of billion pengo notes, of black market steak at ten bucks a bite, of broken down used cars at $1,500—once upon a time tea here cost $25,000 a cup.

Heinz Koerner, young sun-tanned former Wehrmacht soldier now employed at the fuehrer's "eagle nest" atop the mountain, provided this information.

Heinz doesn't have much to do except answer three mountainside telephones which keep ringing constantly. The telephones are used to keep traffic moving only one way at a time on the narrow, winding, breathtaking road to the fantastic hilltop hideaway.

This young German obviously had been here when the place was restricted to a super select clientele.

Heinz told with the emphasis of a man who knows what he is talking about, that Hitler visited this dizzy retreat only five times, that Goering had been here only thrice and Martin Bormann, the deputy Fuehrer, only ten times in all.

Each visit was for tea only. The house ironically is called a teahouse, although it can be reached only through tunnels which would be impassable if SS or gestapo men were there as guards.

Heinz said the retreat never was used except to entertain at tea those "guests" who had settled some deal with the fuehrer at the Obersalzburg chalet several thousand feet below. Heinz said that the retreat had cost $2,500,000

Eighteen visits by the three nazi big shots probably came to about 100 cups of tea. That's $25,000 a cup in rough figures in any language.

You can't get any tea at Berchtesgaden now, or even a drink of water. Germans tend the place and with what seems like very aloof reluctance take visitors to the top in the fancy bronze elevator, they show tourists the big glass enclosed room where anyone so inclined could build a few delusions of grandeur through the drifting clouds, if he chose, and the few bare, cold looking appointments.

There's a big sign at Berchtesgaden that says "Property of United States military government". But don't believe that for a minute. The Germans think they own it.

Los Angeles — (AP)—Cab service to the door is getting to be a habit, and tiresome, for Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hastings.
